FATAL COLLISION.

Seven Persons Drowned in the Irish Channel.

Queensdown, Aug. 8.—The White Star line steamer Oceanic, Capt. Cameron, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday for New York via Queensdown, arrived here this morning and reported having been in collision last night in the Irish Channel with the steamer Kinora, of Waterford, Ireland. The Kinora sank. Seven persons were drowned.

The Kinora was a steel screw steamer of 453 tons. She belonged to the Waterford Steamship Company. The collision occurred in a fog. The bow of the Oceanic was damaged. The Kinora was a sailing vessel trading between Waterford and Limerick. She had a crew of 14 men. The Oceanic brought the seven survivors to this port.

Later—The damage sustained by the Oceanic will not prevent her proceeding on her journey. Details of the collision show that the only damage sustained by the Oceanic was a few dents to her port plates. She proceeded at 3:50 p. m. The collision occurred this side of Tuskar at about 1:30 a. m. this morning. The fog was very dense. The Kinora was struck amidships. All the passengers of the Oceanic were in bed at the time, and there was some commotion until the captain assured them that there was no cause for alarm. Headway was kept on the Oceanic after she struck the Kinora in order to give the crew of the latter a chance to clamber on board the Oceanic. The boats were lowered to rescue every man possible. The Kinora sank very rapidly. The Oceanic remained in the vicinity of the collision until daylight, but nothing was then visible beyond some floating wreckage.

DEATH OF AN EX-GOVERNOR.

Vienna, Aug. 8.—A despatch to the Tageblatt from Stirling, in the Tyrol, announces the death of Gen. Baratrier, the former governor of Erythraea.

Death Of Peter Jackson

Once Famous Pugilist Died at an Australian Sanatorium.

Spoiled by the Attentions Lavished Upon Him by the Sports.

Peter Jackson, the once famous pugilist, is dead. Although the death occurred nearly a month ago, it is not until now that the thousands who once were glad to call themselves his friends and admirers, are apprised of it. Even in Australia, where it occurred, and where he came from to endeavor to take the heavyweight championship from America, the event caused little comment. All the papers in Brisbane, a copy of which was received by the Monna, had to say was "Peter Jackson, the champion heavyweight boxer, died last night at a private sanatorium in Roma, from consumption. He was in his fortieth year. Although the death was not altogether unexpected, the news will be received with regret in all sporting circles." The funeral took place at Brisbane.

Jackson when last in this city a couple of years ago, was considered to be in the first stages of consumption. While here he had an attack of typhoid pneumonia, from which he never fully recovered, although he received the best of care in the Jubilee hospital. When it was realized that he could not live long, he went to his home in Australia to take a position as instructor in an athletic club.

Jackson arrived in San Francisco 16 years ago from Australia, and as he made a good showing against some of the coming men of the period and had a splendid knowledge of boxing, he was appointed instructor of the California Athletic club. Corbett was instructor of the Olympia club at the same time, and a match was arranged between the two men. It lasted 76 rounds, and ended in a draw. Corbett at that time had no record, while Jackson had been fighting for years in Australia for small purses. His friends claimed that he had a sore leg at the time of the fight, and said this accounted for the poor showing he made against Corbett. His next fight of any importance was with Sheriff "the Prussian," who had fought a draw with Kilrain, a fight which he won in the eighteenth round. Shortly afterwards he went to England and there defeated Slavin. He was lionized by the smart sporting set and this was the cause of his undoing, although he had started on the downward road in San Francisco. When he returned to America he had virtually broken down, and his only fights afterwards were with men of poor standing. He came here and gave a very poor exhibition against a third-rate man, and after a couple of similar fiascos in Nanaimo and Vancouver, he settled here and was taken down with typhoid pneumonia, being in the hospital for five months with it. What is known as muscular consumption followed, and the once powerful fighter returned to his southern home a perfect wreck. His career was a brilliant but short one.

Thousands of Fine Salmon Are Thrown Away at Fraser River Canneries.

Want of Sufficient Inside Help
—The Indians Are Not Available.

Vancouver, Aug. 8.—(Special)—The salmon run on the Fraser river last night averaged several hundred to the boat. Several boats came in with over 1,000. As the limit of 200 to the boat was still on, the number of fish thrown overboard to rot along the shore was appalling.

A member of the executive of the Canneries' Association was asked by the Colonist correspondent this morning why the cannery could not handle more than 200 to the boat. This informant stated that it was owing to the scarcity of inside labor. During the strike the Indians and their squaws in the north were warned not to make their annual trip down owing to the strike. As a result the Indians waited so long that they became disgusted and decided not to come at all. If labor had been plentiful, the cannery could have taken 300 or over to the boat. As it is, a great deal of the labor has gone to the Sound, apparently in defiance of the Alien Labor Law. At the present time a large number of British Columbia Indians are said to be working in the Puget Sound cannery. Indians contracted for on this side of the line.

The local banks forwarded the checks to Chicago for collection, and they have been returned with the information that the Portland Cement Company has no existence. Walker disposed of quite a lot of his bogus paper here.

MacArthur

On Filipinos

Subjugation of the Natives Still Remains a Perplexing Problem.

Despite Thousands Killed the Islanders Keep Up the Fight for Liberty.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The annual report of Major-General MacArthur, dated July 4, 1901, the day he relinquished command of the division of the Philippines, has been received at the war department. The period covered by the report is from October 1, 1900, when the last report from Gen. MacArthur was dated. He reviews the policy of the Philippines who were hostile to the United States, saying that their action since the practical collapse of the insurrection has been a perplexing problem. With the disbandment of the insurgent field armies the Filipinos organized, despite resistance, by banding the people together in support of the guerrillas. This was carried out by means of committees, who collected contributions, insisted punishment, and carried on a considerable opposition to the United States. Gen. MacArthur says that the proclamation issued on December 20, firmly declaring the intention of the United States to hold the islands and to have the laws obeyed, had a good effect, and the secret resistance was much abated. A considerable proportion of the report is devoted to the field operations of the army.

Gen. MacArthur gives the following statistics from May 1900, to June 30, 1901, during which time there were 1026 contacts between United States troops and insurgents, which show the casualties on both sides:

United States—Killed 245, wounded 499, captured 18, missing 20.
Insurgents—Killed 2,848, wounded 1,193, captured 6,572, surrendered 23,095.

During the same period the following material was captured and surrendered from the insurgents: Revolver ammunition 293,365 rounds, rifles 808, bolts 3,516, cannon 122, cannon ammunition 10,270 rounds.

Gen. MacArthur states in a brief epitome of the conditions in the different provinces. Gen. MacArthur states in a brief epitome of the conditions in the different provinces in the islands must be a well organized army and navy. He says the capture of Aguinaldo must be regarded as the most momentous single event of the year.

I., of the murder of Genoveva Torres, a native Filipino girl, by stabbing her to death with a sword cane, at Mandana, Cebu, on November 15, 1900. The court sentenced the accused to be hanged.

A Perilous Predicament

Santos Dumont's Steerable Balloon Breaks Away and Bursts.

Narrow Escape of the Inventor—He Is Not Discouraged.

Paris, Aug. 8.—M. Santos Dumont, the aeronaut, this morning attempted to circle the Eiffel tower. Santos Dumont started from the Parc de St. Cloud at 6:10 a. m. amid hearty cheers. His initial movements were promising, as the balloon turned around Eiffel tower nine minutes and thirty-four seconds after starting, and re-headed for St. Cloud. Just over the Avenue Henri Marion, however, a strong gust of wind struck the balloon, when it veered violently to one side, almost simultaneously bounding backwards a distance of fifty yards. The hydrogen gas was forced from the front to the back part of the balloon, creating a sudden expansion which caused the machine to dip. Her screw touched the steel cords and broke them. M. Santos Dumont immediately stopped the motor, and the balloon began to descend.

Unfortunately the cover of the balloon struck the corner of a six-story building. A report like the shot of a cannon followed. The balloon collapsed and fell rapidly. Luckily the frame caught on the coping of the building and the balloon remained suspended, otherwise Dumont would have been killed. As it was, the aeronaut hung in a most dangerous position in midair for half an hour until by a great effort he succeeded in catching the iron bar of a window, to which he clung until rescued with some difficulty by the use of ropes. He escaped without scratch and superintended the removal of the machine.

The explosion of the balloon attracted enormous crowds, and the reception of M. Santos Dumont upon reaching the street was most enthusiastic, many ladies clinging to his neck and kissing him repeatedly. The balloonist said he is quite ready to commence operations again.

M. Deutsche, who offered the prize of 100,000 francs for the rounding of the Eiffel tower, the return to the starting point within a given period of time, was so affected by the danger that Dumont had passed through that he told him he would rather present him with the prize at once than see him kill himself with his experiments, but the aeronaut replied that he had rounded Eiffel tower in such a short period of time that he considered the result too satisfactory to permit the relinquishment in his attempt in the future.

DUMONT'S ACCOUNT.

Paris, Aug. 8.—M. Santos Dumont gave the following account of his trip:

"This time it is not the fault of the motor, which worked admirably; it was the balloon which caused the accident. I rounded the Eiffel tower with admirable speed, as I had a favorable wind, and was already returning over the Bois de Boulogne, when the wind freshened suddenly and struck me sideways. Like a ship in a storm the balloon pitched and rolled, and I was unable to recover my normal position. Another sudden gust of the wind caused the front of the balloon to pitch downwards and the ropes connecting it with the frame caught in the propeller, which struck the balloon wires. They broke, and I was in danger, and my only thought was to descend as quickly as possible. This I was doing successfully, but I was driven by a contrary wind in the direction of the Eiffel tower. Again the breeze veered and I was driven against the tower. The balloon burst like a toy balloon and the fragments fell, completely covering me. The rest you know. I am unhurt; I have not a scratch, and will recommence."

"The motor is uninjured. I have worked it for ten minutes. I will now send it to St. Cloud and set to work repairing the balloon. It is simply a matter of sewing the pieces together."

"The cause of the accident was that the balloon was insufficiently filled, and I knew this. The ventilator also worked badly."

M. Deutsche, who was present at the start, shed tears when he saw the balloon falling, but in an interview, after highly praising the courage and skill of M. Santos Dumont, he said: "I am afraid the experiments will not be continued, as his balloon will always be at the mercy of the wind, which is not the kind of airship I have dreamed of."

A MIRACLE.

The aeronaut, Santos Dumont, was awarded a medal of St. Bernard presented to him by the Comtesse d'Eu the other day, on the occasion of one of his ascents. This medal he wears attached to a bracelet on his wrist. When M. Santos Dumont referred to this belief he kissed the medal.

RUSHING THE ESTIMATES.

Imperial Commons Vote £67,000,000 at An All-Night Session.

London, Aug. 9.—At 10 o'clock last night in a crowded and exciting session of the House of Commons, Mr. Balfour's new rule, of voting estimates by wholesale closure, came into operation. Lump-sums in excess of £57,000,000 were, by this scheme, voted in a series of divisions before 1 o'clock this morning, the government majority always exceeding one hundred. The house was still in session at 5 a. m. The members engaged in obstructive tactics with reference to various resolutions incidental to the final stages of the estimates and Mr. Chamberlain frequently moved the closure.

The House adjourned at 6 a. m. after numerous divisions under the closure. The Irish members kept up a continual opposition, but without disorderly scenes.

LABOR LEADERS

In Council

Shaffer and Gompers Hold a Long Consultation on the Situation.

Several Mills Start Working—Foreign Non-Union Workmen Shot.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association, devoted today to a conference with President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, who came here for a personal study of the situation before committing himself, or his immense organization, in any manner. The conference reached no conclusion and, unless there is an alteration of plans, will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The steel corporation succeeded today in getting the Farm mill at Lindsay and the McCutcheon plant and another mill at the Clark Works in operation. They also received reports that Hyde Park last night four of the mills worked, and an announcement from Wellsfield that the strike was virtually off there. They met with no opposition at any of the four points where they had to pass, and the progress made. The strikers insist that there are not enough men at the Lindsay and McCutcheon mills to operate the one mill started, and predicted that it would close during the day. It was planned to open another mill at Lindsay and McCutcheon's, also to start the Plant mill and the Charter's plant at Carnegie, but just when they will be started remains to be seen.

The steel corporation is evidently putting forward great efforts at Pittsburg, the headquarters of the strike, for the moral effect.

The first act of violence in this neighborhood occurred at about last night, when a foreigner, whose name could not be learned, was shot, presumably by strikers. He was employed in the copper extraction department of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, and was shot in the chest. There were six or eight shots fired from the hill, back of the works. The company had succeeded in filling the striking firemen's places and the strikers were being shot and shot at them. A heavy guard of special officers has been put on for the protection of the workmen.

LABOR LEADERS

In Council

Shaffer and Gompers Hold a Long Consultation on the Situation.

Several Mills Start Working—Foreign Non-Union Workmen Shot.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association, devoted today to a conference with President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, who came here for a personal study of the situation before committing himself, or his immense organization, in any manner. The conference reached no conclusion and, unless there is an alteration of plans, will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The steel corporation succeeded today in getting the Farm mill at Lindsay and the McCutcheon plant and another mill at the Clark Works in operation. They also received reports that Hyde Park last night four of the mills worked, and an announcement from Wellsfield that the strike was virtually off there. They met with no opposition at any of the four points where they had to pass, and the progress made. The strikers insist that there are not enough men at the Lindsay and McCutcheon mills to operate the one mill started, and predicted that it would close during the day. It was planned to open another mill at Lindsay and McCutcheon's, also to start the Plant mill and the Charter's plant at Carnegie, but just when they will be started remains to be seen.

The steel corporation is evidently putting forward great efforts at Pittsburg, the headquarters of the strike, for the moral effect.

The first act of violence in this neighborhood occurred at about last night, when a foreigner, whose name could not be learned, was shot, presumably by strikers. He was employed in the copper extraction department of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, and was shot in the chest. There were six or eight shots fired from the hill, back of the works. The company had succeeded in filling the striking firemen's places and the strikers were being shot and shot at them. A heavy guard of special officers has been put on for the protection of the workmen.

STRATHCONA'S GIFT.

Letter from the Canadian Commissioner to Mr. H. D. Helmecken.

Following is the letter in which Lord Strathcona conveyed to Mr. H. D. Helmecken, K.C., M.P.P., the pleasing information that he had decided to make a donation of $5,000 for an additional wing to the Jubilee Hospital:

28 Grosvenor Square, W.,
London, 21st July, 1901.

Dear Mr. Helmecken: Yesterday's mail brought me your letter of the 5th instant, in which some interesting particulars are given regarding your Victoria Jubilee Hospital, and the proposal of adding one or two wings to the building. Doubtless, as you suggest, the addition of a wing as an adjunct to the hospital will be the greatest benefit as well for the accommodation and treatment of patients as for the training of nurses. I understand you to say that such an addition would cost in the neighborhood of $4,000, and I have much pleasure in now communicating with my manager in Montreal, Mr. Hardisty, requesting him to send a cheque for $5,000 (five thousand dollars), which I trust may be fully sufficient for the purpose.

It is very good of you to say that you and other friends in Victoria would be glad to see me there, and as I am arranging for sailing for the Canadiana on the 24th August, with the view of spending a short time in Canada, I shall be greatly pleased, if during my visit, I should be able to take the trip by the Canadian Pacific to Vancouver.

With our best regards to Mrs. Helmecken, Miss Anita and yourself.

Believe me, dear Mr. Helmecken, very sincerely yours,

Will Purchase Gold Outright

Arrangements Completed Between Dominion and Provincial Governments.

Rebate of One Per Cent Royalty Will be Allowed Here.

Miners who wish to make a clean profit of one per cent. on their gold, will hereafter bring it to Victoria to sell. The necessary arrangements having been made between the Provincial and Dominion governments, the provincial treasurer now buys all gold offered after it has been assayed by the provincial assayers, and pays in addition to the market value of the gold one per cent. of the amount of the royalty paid by the miner to the authorities at Dawson, that is of course if the miner has a receipt to show that he has paid royalty. As a matter of fact, the miner receives the assay value of the gold and one per cent. of the amount he paid as royalty, and the only charge is the usual one made at all assay offices, both Canadian and American, for assaying.

As soon as the news came from Ottawa that the Dominion government would refund one per cent. of the royalty on gold, which was sold at Victoria, the authorities of the department of mines proceeded to make the necessary arrangements for receiving the gold. The big scales have been moved into the treasury department, and the gold offered for sale is weighed by the assayer in the presence of the seller. He is given a receipt for the amount of gold, and the dust is then taken to the assay office, assayed and run into bars and the value stamped on it. This takes but a few hours, and as soon as the bars are ready the miner is paid the full value of the gold, and in addition one per cent. of the royalty he has paid in the Yukon. If it happens to be Yukon gold, he is paid with a check that will be honored by any of the banks. Should he be in need of money in the interval between the time he takes his gold to the treasury and the time the bars are ready, the banks will advance him 50 per cent. of the amount which the gold weighs according to the receipt of the assayer.

The provincial government of course will dispose of the gold as they think best, but until the establishment of a Dominion mint it is likely that it will be marketed in one of the American cities where there is a mint.

The Teams For Saturday

The Lacrosse and Baseball Men Who Are to Play To-morrow.

Nanaimo Has a New Pitcher For the Ball Game Here.

The Victoria Lacrosse club will not place as strong a team in the field at Nanaimo as they had against the New Westminster team, but the men chosen should give a good account of themselves. They will miss Charles and Frank Cullen, Tite and Dewar, who are unable to go with the team to the Coast, but are nevertheless training for the next match with the champions. The team to play at Nanaimo is as follows: Goal, Milne; point, Lorrimer; cover point, Milne; first defence, Spain; second defence, Rost; third defence, Macdonald; centre, Blair; third forward, Macdonald; outside home, Smith; first home, Wilson; outside home, Dinsmore; inside home, Snyder; spare, Taylor; Captain, Ditchburn.

THE LINE-UP.

Victoria and Nanaimo Teams Which Are to Meet on Saturday.

The Victorians had their last practice before Saturday's match last evening. The boys have been working very hard this week, and it is safe to say that they are now in better condition than they have been at any time this season. There is one thing certain, and that is that the description of the game that look forward to seeing a baseball game in every sense of the word.

The Nanaimo team sent in their line-up yesterday. They bring beside their own clever pitcher, an extra twirler by the name of O'Brien. He is a stranger to the local line, nothing whatever being known of him. The personnel of the team is as follows: Thos. Aiken, catcher; J. Greenwell and Wm. O'Brien, pitchers; Wm. Culligan, 1st base; B. Williams, 2nd base; B. Ashman, 3rd base; Wm. Turner, short stop; Wm. Graham, left field; Jas. Gordon, centre field; Geo. Friend, right field; John Aiken, sub.

This is the same team that played against Victoria on June 29, and that defeated Vancouver on July 2. They have been constantly practising and report that they are in fine trim to give the local boys a good hard game. The line-up of the Victorians will be as follows: B. Schwenger, catcher; J. Holness, pitcher; J. Barnswell, 1st base; P. Widdowson, 2nd base; "Doc" Haynes, 3rd base; P. McConnell, short stop; C. Potts, right field; Geo. Burns, centre field; J. Bonker, left field.

This is the heaviest batting team that the locals have had in the field this season, and they will no doubt give their opposing pitcher a warm reception.

"Ladies Day" promises well, and it is quite certain that attendances of ladies will be very large.

The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

The matter will be considered by the Capitals.

VANCOUVER, 14: WHATCOMB, 2.

Vancouver, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—The Vancouver baseball team defeated Whatcomb today by a score of 14 to 2. Donnelly and Mackie were the battery for Vancouver, and played in great form. The Whatcomb pitcher was heralded as a wonder, but the Vancouver batters found him in the third inning and batted him hard. The following is the score by innings:

Vancouver . . . 0 0 4 0 5 0 5 0—14

A SILLY DECISION.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 8.—If no yacht can be found to race against the Independence by September 3, Mr. Lawson, the owner, will order her broken up as old steel. This was his instructions to day when the only chance for a race against the Constitution or Columbia slipped by because the managers of these yachts would not enter a regatta in which there was to be a class for 90-footers.

SOME ENGLISH ABSURDITIES.

From the Nineteenth Century.
The Lord of the Isle of Man is bound by the tenure of his inheritance to present two falcons to the king. The original grant seems to have been made by Henry IV. to Henry, Earl of Northumberland. It is an admission of the claim at Charles II's coronation. At the coronation of George V. among the feudal services the two falcons of Lord Derby for the Isle of Man were conspicuous. "The king descended from his chair of state and the ladies of the court pressed round to caress and examine the noble birds." According to the tenure of the manor of Nether Blisington, in Kent, the lord must give three male cups to the king at the banquet. This tenure dates from Henry I. The manor of Heydon, in Essex, is held by the service of presenting the towel to the king when washing before the banquet. The service can be traced back to the first family in the reign of Henry II. "Petrus Pictus tenet dimid Heydene per sergiantium servitium cum una toalla et coronationem regis." Another service dated from Henry II. is attached to the manor of Eiston, in Essex. The service consists in making wafers which the lord of the manor must bring in person to the king and queen at the banquet table. The manor of Addington in Surrey, was granted by William I. to Tezclun, the King's cook, upon the service of making a dish, called variously groat or dilgrout, in the king's kitchen. The service has survived to the present time, but as the lord of Addington is no longer the king's master cook, a division of labour takes place; the king's cook prepares the dish and the lord of the manor serves it to the king.

THE EDMONTON COUNTRY.

A Land of Beauty, Happiness and Fertility.

A correspondent of the Mail and Empire says: But as you get more north the country improves, and you have trees and occasional water, and greater variety in the land indeed of considerable beauty and cheerfulness; the soil moreover is of the best description. In places it looks very much like England, and if you leave the railway and drive ten miles or so you will find a well-settled and happy-looking neighborhood. This country, to the north of Calgary is being well opened up by a very desirable class of settlers. There are perhaps a dozen stations between Calgary and Edmonton, and nearly every one of them is the centre of the trade of the neighborhood and contains the general store, and the inevitable agricultural implement agency. You start on a long, slow, mischievous worm of a train, whose eyes are not only people, but cattle. It rubs these off here and there, and sometimes detaches a joint of its tail, bodily. The daily train is the link with existence. In the evening people get down, and the train comes in. You wait long enough sometimes to become acquainted with the people of the settlement. We left Calgary at about 1:30 in the afternoon and reached Edmonton at three o'clock on Sunday morning. That is we reached Strathcona—the terminus of the railway. We still had three miles to go, and this was accomplished behind a team of the gamiest horses any man might wish to drive. The road is a good one, and the risks of the district to which these honest horses were harnessed, and we soon had cause to be thankful that our driver was an experienced and able whip. Edmonton was the other side of the mountains of the Saskatchewan, this we had to descend by a rapid descent, to cross the river by a suspension bridge, and to climb the 200 feet ascent on the other side. Moreover, the road was of the "dirt" variety, and there had been frequent rains. It was not getting through one Slough of Despond—there were scores of them. Rapid change of level on the part of the occupants of the vehicle was inseparable from this sort of road. At one time you were apologizing to your neighbor for sitting on the top of him, and at another three of four were sitting on you without apologizing. I never knew before how far a rig will toggle without going over the side of a road, and the solemn dawn, at last we came to the desert and our driver clapped on the brake, and we prayed that nothing might happen. The long bridge crossed the river, and after that the tremendous climb, during which the horses had to stop and breathe three times, and only the good little break kept us from going over the river bank backwards. Edmonton, electrically, is a city of 111,000 people, and in their beds at the top, and we found a surprisingly good hotel and went to bed by daylight. A handbill in the rotunda announces that a weekly stage for Athabasca Landing leaves every Tuesday, and that it will stop at our reaches its destination at six o'clock on Wednesday evening. We are at the jumping-off place for the Yukon, and there are advertisements of miners' stores.

MONKEY BEATS COBRA.

A monkey and a cobra fight was witnessed by some persons a couple of days ago, about a mile or two up the Obsoor road at Bangalore. A large monkey disturbed a cobra, which was basking in the sun about a foot or two from the road. The infuriated reptile gave the monkey chase, but he took the matter easy till he got to a rock. While perched there the snake, who had been in close chase, reared up almost full length, and with open hood darted at the monkey. But the latter dodged and ducked on the defensive and allowed the reptile to strike forcibly each time against the stone. This went on for a considerable time until the snake lay out at full length bleeding and exhausted. Then the monkey seized the snake, and rubbed its head clean off the trunk and afterward climbed a tree, where the persons who had witnessed the interesting encounter treated the victor to Indian corn and sugar cane—Lahore Tribune.

A QUEER COLLAR.

A seal apparently a year old, was caught in the Murray Island fish trap last week, which had around its neck a lobster pot bow about six and a half inches in diameter, that had plainly enough been torn from a trap by the seal getting its head through in search of bait, when the animal was much smaller, for the bow was now sunk in level with the skin all round the neck. James Lowe, of this place, who examined the seal with its queer collar, says its tightness must have been distressing—Const Guard.

ONTARIO LADIES' COLLEGE

The new illustrated calendar of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, is just issued. It is exceptionally neat and complete. Across the outside cover is a double band of two shades of blue representing the college colors, whilst the interior contains numerous cuts illustrating the college buildings and grounds. For some years the Ontario Ladies' College has been recognized as one of our most efficient and progressive institutions, with a large and increasing patronage, and a strong glance at its staff, its course of study, its up-to-date equipment, its pleasant, healthful surroundings will reveal the secret of its popularity and success. The college stands for sound scholarship, physical health and that type of social culture that grows in a Christian atmosphere. The Rev. Dr. Hare has been Principal of the College since its inauguration twenty-seven years ago, and will be pleased to give further information to those who may desire it.

Special! Ladies' Day

after the ambassador's return to Washington in October. This statement is taken here to mean that England is prepared to withdraw her opposition to the settlement of several problems which the commission adjourned about any discussion of the unwillingness of the English and Canadian governments to accept the conclusions practically reached on all questions except that involving the Alaskan boundary line.

It is believed here that if the commission meets as advertised by the British ambassador, it will result in the settlement of the sealing controversy during the coming winter through the purchase of the Canadian rights either by the United States or the United States General Commercial Company on the basis of guarantees given by England and Canada, and acquired in by Russia and Japan, that will result in the absolute cessation of pelagic sealing. The heretofore British islands, who would be the beneficiaries of this arrangement, would thus find themselves in full control of the entire Alaskan herd, and it is believed the herd would rapidly augment without any diminution of the present average annual catch. The experts here calculate that the limit of 30,000 now prescribed by the treasury department, and which has not been reached for several years, might be raised in the course of three or four years to 40,000 or 50,000.

PRESS OPINIONS.

Mr. Dryden, Ontario's minister of agriculture, spent a lot of his own money on a big farm in the New Ontario, but he is putting his own funds into a Dakota enterprise. It looks as if the Yankoes would get the best advertisement out of Mr. Dryden's work.—Montreal Gazette.

The Canadian Sportsman is disgusted with the Dakota movement made by Mr. Dryden, and puts it this way: "But for a Canadian minister of agriculture who is a sportsman, it is a disgrace that he should be so stupid and advocate the superior advantages offered to settlers, either on the farm lands of this province or the prairies of the great West, to declare them unsuitable by himself going to Dakota, is a blunder that only a stupid man could be guilty of. Such an act utterly destroys Mr. Dryden's usefulness as a member of the legislature of this province. Any speech that he might in future make respecting the advantages to be derived by settling on Canadian soil would be utterly devoid of influence, because in his private capacity as a cattle breeder he gave the lie to his official opinions by giving the preference to Yankee land over that of his own country. The dollar-and-cent aspect of the question appears to have been the only one that appealed to him; he was utterly indifferent to the use that can be made by American land owners of his action, and if he possessed one atom of enthusiasm in his calling as minister of one of the most important departments of the government, he never could have been guilty of such a blunder. This Dakota purchase will be made use of by every speculative land company in that state, and, though blizzards and drought in that section have driven thousands of settlers out of the state, many of them coming to our Western lands, the fact that a Canadian minister of agriculture has selected Dakota lands—paid for by his own money—in preference to that of his native land, will in the hands of Yankee land agents be made to do yeoman service."

SOUTH AFRICAN MEDALS.

Designs Were Submitted to and Approved by Queen Victoria.

In the annual report on the work of the British mint some interesting details are given of the recent operations in the medal department, which was fully employed during the year, especially during the last half of it, in the preparation of medals for the members of those struck being on account of the war in South Africa in anticipation of its early termination. Dedicating these medals from those actually issued under the provisions of the medals act, the report states that 46,941 have been supplied to the war office, 921 to the admiralty, 4,000 to the government of Canada, and 30 to the Indian office. In addition 12,974 clasps were issued. It had been determined early in the year to make preparations for the issue of a medal for the military operations in South Africa before the termination of the war, in order that there might be no long delay after that result had been attained, in its distribution to the members of the large forces employed. Drawings were accordingly submitted to Her Majesty, and designs were finally approved by the late Queen, which enabled this department in August last to proceed with the work of striking and mounting medals. By the end of 1900, 102,043 had been struck and issued to Woolwich to be engraved with the recipient's names.

A young minister who did not scruple to fish for compliments, was once invited to take dinner with a richer and older minister. Turn the conversation as he would, the younger man could not get his host to say "sermon," and at last he boldly introduced the important subject by remarking directly, "That was a fine text I had today."

But the older knew his man. "On any," he replied cautiously, "There was a nathank wing wip' the text."—Tit Bits.
